

Integrated Leadership Groups

THE CALL

ILG was developed by Australian Marketplace Connections (AMC) as part of their ministry to equip, challenge and support Christians in business. ILG is an “Integrated Leadership Group” of likeminded people who seek to integrate God’s kingdom principles in and through their leadership in the marketplace.

THE MISSION

To develop transformational leadership through facilitated peer mentoring.

THE CHALLENGE

Two of the key questions for today’s Christians in the marketplace are: Can personal faith enhance my business leadership? Can biblical principles influence the impact of my business? Effective managers know that the success of their business depends largely on their ability as a leader in an ever changing and challenging world, which in turn depends on their character, abilities and faith. They also know that leadership is not a journey to be taken alone, yet often they find no one there when they need them most...

Christian CEO, Sydney

THE OPPORTUNITY

Your Integrated Leadership Group is like forming your own personal reference group for sharing and support during your life's journey. Through your membership you will have a unique opportunity to be part of a private and confidential group that will help develop character strengths and leadership skills in line with your personal calling and business mission. The ILG approach combines the interaction of peer mentoring with input from noteworthy speakers on current business issues. This unique blend generates leadership development based on biblical perspectives and business excellence.

Key ILG Features:

- Half-day meetings approximately every six weeks
- Small groups of 8-14 committed members
- Intercession support available as required
- Professional and spiritual development
- Professional group facilitator
- Testimonies and input from industry leaders
- Special guest speakers and skills workshops
- Meals and refreshments provided at sessions
- Annual combined ILG Retreat (includes spouse)
- Annual Cre8 Kingdom Business Conference
- Regular combined Roundtable events with other ILGs
- Full back office administration and support

THE REWARD

When an entrepreneur, business manager or chief executive faces personal or business challenges, they often need objective, external support. ILG provides a place of support and positive conviction during these times to address issues of family, faith, health, work, strategic decisions or life balance. Intentionally, ILG addresses all the interconnected factors that support your capacity as a business person. ILG members especially value their spiritual connection with like-minded peers, as a source of healing and spiritual breakthrough that is not available from most business groups.

Key Membership Benefits:

- A safe and confidential environment for personal support
- Friendship with like minded peers from non-competing organisations
- Every member committed to the success of every other member
- Recognising God's interest and involvement in all that we do
- Drawing on Biblical wisdom for current issues and complexity
- Fresh training and equipping from relevant guest speakers
- Learning from and interacting with members' own experiences and business cases
- Renewed dynamic work life, with purpose and meaning
- Constructive accountability and encouragement
- Increased productivity and capacity as a business person
- Biblical insights on leadership, excellence and economic principles
- Christian prayer and healing available
- Investment in the whole person, not just technical skills

THE INVESTMENT

ILG annual subscriptions range from $2,500 to $6,000 depending on the size of the organisation and the leader's role (similar secular groups often charge $15,000 or more). The return on this important investment is significant and life changing, impacting your calling as a Christian leader in the marketplace.

'Executives get hired for their skills but fired for their Values. ILGs are about discussing the issues around Values'

Neville Cox, Chairman AMP Bank Board
